Dear Sir/Madam

Thank you so much for your kind donation of £214.35 which you have all raised with your fantastic fundraising efforts.

In recognition of this marvellous donation we are enclosing a signed certificate.

The RSPCA is a charity, which means that the government does not give us any money to help suffering or cruelly treated animals. All our vitally important work is funded by your generosity.

We use your money wisely so that we can:

- keep our 400 inspectors and animal welfare officers out there helping animals everyday of the year
- find loving forever homes for over 60,000 distressed animals each year
- provide veterinary care, kindness and recovery time for any unwanted or cruelly treated animal in our centres
- rescue and rehabilitate any wild animal that have been injured or impacted on by pollution, careless driving or littering
- set high standards for farm animal care so that when you buy Freedom Food labelled meat, fish and other foods you can be sure there has been no suffering or cruelty
- reduce the numbers of, refine the scientific techniques used on and replace completely where possible, live animals used in research and testing by scientists and the pharmaceutical industry

Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals

There you will find a range of fully resourced lesson activities, interactive tasks, projects and assembly ideas that help young people develop respectful, responsible attitudes towards animals. Our resources are specially created for schools and are linked to the National Curriculum. Also, if you enjoy campaigning and fundraising, there are plenty of ideas to help raise awareness of animal welfare in your school and community.

Thank you again,
